DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1, 2, 3, 12-14 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Dutcher. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. Applicant argues that the adhesive layer in claim 1 is implicitly or inherently defined to be coated throughout the entire film to be able to then have the described feature of being able to be stuck to an object after being torn apart. Applicant further argues that the article disclosed in Dutcher does not have this property, namely of sticking to an object after tearing of the film. However this argument is not convincing. There is no disclosure directed to the adhesive layer coated "throughout the entire" tearable film nor does the ability of the tearable film to be adhered to an object after being torn apart imply that the tearable film is completely coated on a side with adhesive. Furthermore, applicant's specifically disclose using a tearable film in an application wherein the film would typically have adhesive coated over only a portion of the film, namely as a "Post-it" product; see page 2, lines 8-16. Concerning Dutcher, if the tear line in Figure 1 of this reference is torn, the sheet is still capable of being attached to something through the adhesive layers 28, 30. In any event, the term "adhesive layer" used in the instant claims does not structurally distinguish over the adhesive strip used in Dutcher since the adhesive strip is an adhesive layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 4-6, 11 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dutcher. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive for the reasons of record and for the reasons set forth above in paragraph 1.

4. Claims 7-9 and 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dutcher in view of Cuffey et al. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive for the reasons of record and for the reasons set forth above in paragraph 1.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
